Making the network perennial

The caENTI started a process that will go on after the end of the coordination action. We have a vision for the future. On the basis of the caENTI results, we defined the tasks that should be made on the short term.

- ✓ Heritage of caENTI
- ✓ Dissemination actions
- ✓ Network of excellence

Heritage of caENTI

The research activities on fundamental methods and governance principles generate debates and reports. We started debating about them during conferences and publishing them in scientific journals.

Besides, caENTI drafted many specifications for information contents (guide, file, repertory, territorial indicators), as for data processing software. caENTI started updating and working out tools and databases. Some of them can be downloaded online. They will need developments and regular updating.

Experimentations and future observatories will require accompaniment and training.

Tools and databases

- Information contents: guide, file, repertory and territorial indicators
- Data analysis tools: Pragma and Anaconda
- Documentation on meanings, protocols, guidance notes and uses
- Catalyse content management system
- Territorial Intelligence Community Systems
- European portal of territorial indicators with web mapping
- Publishable European databases of research teams on territory
- Project of European repertory of territorial intelligence actors

Dissemination actions

- The portal <http://www.territorial-intelligence.eu>
- International conference of territorial intelligence
- The Journal of Territorial Intelligence
- Project of European Master of Territorial Intelligence
- International federative portal territoriesnet.org

Research programme

The project of Network of Excellence is supported by the French National Centre of Scientific Research

- Multidisciplinary synthesis of territory sciences
- Developing territorial information and disseminating territorial observation towards vulnerable people and territories
- Improving the contribution of territorial information to sustainable development and to equitable governance, through a better integration in the territorial decision-making process.

noETI preparation

The conference of Besançon in 2008 was successful. Many participants joined the European Network of Territorial Intelligence and suggested to organize seminars, to plan the future Network of Excellence.

- ✓ In Strasbourg on September 2009 (European Parliament)
- ✓ Conference in Nantes and Rennes on January 2010
- ✓ In Marne-la-Vallée University
- ✓ In the Council of Europe
- ✓ In the University of Québec in Outawais (MIT)
- ✓ In the University of La Plata in Argentina

The next conference of territorial intelligence will take place in Salerno, on November 4-8 2009, on the theme “Territorial Intelligence and Culture of Development”
